

CLASSICAL STUDIES

Don L. Meredith
Harding School of Theology
2016/17

R.R.016.938/H197. Halton, Thomas, and Stella O'Leary. Classical Scholarship: An Annotated Bibliography. White Plains, NY: Kraus International, 1986.

In each of the 15 major chapters entries are organized into topical sections and arranged alphabetically by author. Works are annotated and book reviews are cited for works listed. Among the subject areas treated are papyrology, paleography, textual criticism, epigraphy, history, numismatics, art & archaeology, religion, mythology, and philosophy. Contains author and subject indexes.

R.R.016.88/A613. L'Annee Philologique; Bibliographie Critique et Analytique de L'Antiquite Greco-Latine. Paris: Société d'édition "Les Belles Lettres," 1924- .

Annual bibliographical survey in classical studies. First part lists works by and about classical authors. Second part is divided into 10 subject areas. Includes indexes of ancient and geographical names. "For the areas where the Graeco-Roman and Judaeo-Christian worlds overlap its thorough analysis and annotation is likely to be indispensable." An electronic version of v. 1-85 (1924-2014) of L'Annee Philologique is included in The Database of Classical Bibliography (<http://www.annee-philologique.com/aph/>) and is available by subscription. Each spring a new volume is added to the database.

Perseus Project: A comprehensive collection of primary sources and supporting reference materials on ancient Greece. Contains the following: the complete works of 31 authors in Greek, many with modern English translations; accompanying notes for many of these texts; a collection of 25,000 images of architecture, sculpture, coins, vases, and sites; detailed catalogue entries from 1,420 vases, 366 sculptures and sculptural groups, 523 coins, 381 buildings, and 179 sites, linked to in-depth background essays; an extensive atlas including schematic, satellite, and topographical maps of ancient and present-day Greece on which 1,644 sites can be plotted; an online version of the Liddell-Scott Intermediate Greek-English Lexicon, Liddell & Scott's Greek-English Lexicon, rev. & augmented ed., 1940, a hypertextual encyclopedia of major historical and mythological figures, places, and terms; a collection of secondary resources on Greek vase painters, sculptors, and history; a chronological summary of the major historical and cultural events of 5th century B.C. Greece from the Archaic Period to Alexander the Great, and a bibliographical database with full citations for more than 2,630 works. It can be searched at <http://www.perseus.tufts.edu>

*R.R.913.38/B857. Cancik, Hubert, and Helmuth Schneider, eds. Brill's New Pauly: Encyclopaedia of the Ancient World: Antiquity. 16v. Leiden, Brill, 2000-2010.

Contains signed articles (with bibliographies), which reflect comprehensive coverage of classical antiquity. A translation of Der Neue Pauly: Enzyklopaedie der Antike, which began publication in 1996. The bibliographies were updated for the English translation. The translation is 20v set in two independent parts—Antiquity, 15v and Classical tradition, 5v. The former deals with Greco-Roman antiquity and the latter with the long and influential aftermath of the Classical heritage. "The chronological scope ranges from the 'Aegean Koine' (middle of the 2nd millennium BC) to the formation of early medieval Europe (AD 600 to 800)." In 2010 published an index to the Antiquity part. It contains a subject index; index of persons; geographical concordance; index of maps; lists of maps & illustrations; list of authors in the set; laws, law codes & international treaties; weights, measures & coinage systems; abbreviations of papyrus & ostraka collections and data on chronology & the computation of time.

*R.R.913.38/O98/2012. Hornblower, Simon, and Antony Spawforth. Oxford Classical Dictionary. 4th ed. New York: Oxford University Press, 2012.

Contains about 6,320 signed entries (with bibliographies) by over 365 scholars on every major figure of Greece and Rome, on mythological and legendary figures, on major cities, famous buildings, and important geographical landmarks, and on legal, rhetorical, literary, and political terms and concepts. Two new focus areas have been added to this edition: reception and anthropology. The cutoff date is the death of Constantine (A.D. 337). Compared to the 3rd ed. (1996) contains 71 new articles and 19 replacement articles (see p. xiv for list). Updated other articles if necessary. Contains cross-references.

R.R.938/O98e. Gagarin, Michael, ed. The Oxford Encyclopedia of Ancient Greece and Rome. 7v. New York: Oxford University Press, 2010.

Contains more than 1100 signed articles (with bibliographies) by over 500 contributors. "The encyclopedia seeks to cover the entirety of Greek and Roman antiquity" from "roughly 3000 BCE to 60 CE." The intent is to offer a broad view of a subject for the general reader. There are about 300 illustrations, 50 maps, ten genealogical tables, a chronology in volume 1, and a topical outline and index in volume 7. Includes cross-references.

R.R.913.38/H342o/1990. Howatson, M. C. Oxford Companion to Classical Literature. 2nd ed. New York: Oxford University Press, 1989.

Concise information on classical writers, literary forms & subjects; individual works; persons, places & subjects in Greek and Roman history; institutions, religion, philosophy, etc. about which one reading classical literature may need information.

R.R.912.38/B276 (Atlas case). Talbert, Richard J. Barrington Atlas of the Greek and Roman World. Princeton: Princeton University Press, 2000.

Contains 99 color maps (extending over 175 map pages) divided into 6 regional parts. Involved 10 regional coordinators, 63 compilers, and 95 reviewers. Timespan covered is from approximately 1000 B.C. to around A.D. 640. Aims to show the physical landscape in its ancient aspect. Includes a gazetteer listing every name marked anywhere in the atlas. A "Map-by-Map Directory" and a digital copy of the gazetteer are available on accompanying CD-ROM.

R.R.016.88/B513/1990. Berkowitz, Luci, and Karl A. Squitier. Thesaurus Linguae Graecae Canon of Greek Authors and Works. 3rd ed. New York: Oxford University Press, 1990.

A register of nearly 3,200 authors and over 8,000 individual works. Among the information given are author, title of work, the literary genre characteristic of the bulk of his work, century in which he lived, place he's usually associated with, and information on the standard or best textual edition of each work. An online version of the Canon is available at the TLG website (<http://www.tlg.uci.edu>). It contains over 12,000 bibliographical records and is regularly updated to include new entries as they are added to the TLG database.

296.08/G793. Stern, Menahem, ed. Greek and Latin Authors on Jews and Judaism. 3v. Jerusalem: Israel Academy of Sciences and Humanities, 1974-84.

Corpus of texts which attempts to include all references to Jews and Judaism, and to the country of Judaea, by the Greek and Latin authors of antiquity. The writings of each author are accompanied by an introduction, a critical apparatus, an English translation and a detailed commentary, in which the sources are examined in the context of the latest scholarship and archaeological findings.

Loeb Classical Library (scattered throughout the stacks). Cambridge: Harvard University Press, 1912- . The Latin or Greek text with English translation on opposite page. For a listing of titles in this series consult the catalog under Loeb Classical Library. The following website has a list of the Loeb volumes arranged by Loeb number with a link to those with a free download:

<http://www.edonnelly.com/loeb.html>.

933/J779j. Josephus, with an English Translation. Loeb Classical Library. 10v. London: W. Heinemann, 1926-81.

Josephus lived A.D. 37-100. The Whiston (d. 1752) translation is available online at <http://wesley.nnu.edu/other-theologians/flavius-josephus/>.

R.R.922.96/J83r. Rengstorff, Karl Heinrich. A Complete Concordance to Flavius Josephus. 4v. Leiden: Brill, 1973-83.

Lists occurrences of Greek words with contexts.

888.9/P547. Philo, with an English Translation. Loeb Classical Library. 10v. London: Heinemann, 1929-62.

Philo lived 20 B.C.-A.D. 50. Charles D. Yonge's translation (1854-90) is available at <http://www.earlychristianwritings.com/yonge> or <http://www.earlyJewishwritings.com>

R.R.181.3/P565ZB. Borgen, Peder, Kare Fuglseth, and Roald Skarsten. The Philo Index: A Complete Greek Word Index to the Writings of Philo of Alexandria. Grand Rapids: Eerdmans, 2000.

An index to all the Greek words in Philo's writings.

ARCHAEOLOGY

R.R.913.38/P957. Stillwell, Richard, ed. Princeton Encyclopedia of Classical Sites. Princeton, NJ: Princeton University Press, 1976.

Covers period from 8th century B.C. to 6th century A.D. Good bibliographies. Includes articles on such sites as Athens, Corinth, Ephesus, etc. Available at the following URL:

<http://www.perseus.tufts.edu/hopper/text?doc=Perseus:text:1999.04.0006>. Entries are linked to more than 4,400 new photographs of Roman sites.

R.R.930.1/E56. Murray, Tim, ed. Encyclopedia of Archaeology: The Great Archaeologists. 2v. Santa Barbara, CA: ABC-CLIO, 1999.

Contains signed articles on 58 archaeologists. The articles, which average 12 pages in length, are written by well-known archaeologists and arranged in chronological order by date of birth of subject of article. Entries include photos & other illustrations and bibliographies. Each volume has an alphabetical list of entries and vol. 2 contains an index.

R.R.930.1/E56. Murray, Tim, ed. Encyclopedia of Archaeology: History and Discoveries. 3v. Santa Barbara, CA: ABC-CLIO, 2001.

Contains signed articles (with bibliographies) on histories of archaeology in most parts of the world, biographies of significant archaeologists in addition to those in the two volumes devoted to the great archaeologists, and histories of significant sites, debates, techniques, methods & issues of global archaeology. Includes numerous cross references. Vol. 3 contains an index to the set.

CLASSICAL HISTORY

R.R.930/C144. Bury, John Bagnell, S. A. Cook, and F. E. Adcock, eds. Cambridge Ancient History. 12v. London: Cambridge University Press, 1924-56.

A 2nd ed. of vol. 1 was published in 1924 and a 2nd of v. 3-14, 1982-2005. Vol. 1-2 have been published in a 3rd ed., 1970-75.

937/L675r/1990. Lewis, Naphtali, and Meyer Reinhold. Roman Civilization; Selected Readings. 3rd ed. 2v. New York: Columbia University Press, 1990.

A collection of original sources arranged by subject.

*R.R.937/A918. Aufstieg und Niedergang der Römischen Welt. New York: de Gruyter, 1972- . Volumes on religion contain lengthy articles which provide "an overview of present knowledge and research concerning the religions of the ancient Roman Empire and the neighboring lands." Indexed in the ATLA Religion Database. An index of this set can be found at <http://www.cs.uky.edu/~raphael/scaife/anrw.html>. There is a "Bibliography of ANRW for New Testament Studies" at http://ntresources.com/blog/?page\_id=2760. This is an author list of articles relating to the N.T. in volumes 18.1-18.5, 25.1-25.6, 26.1-26.3, 27.1, 29.1. There is a link on the site to the PDF of a revised, substantially expanded version that covers vols. 1.1-4, 7.1-2, 8, 9.1-2, 17.1-4, 18.1-5, 19.1-2, 20.1-2, 21.1-2, 23.1-2, 25.1-6, 26.1-3, 27.1, 29.1-2, 30.1-3, 32.1-5, 34.1-4, 37.1-3. In 1996 an index to all the articles published up to, and including, 1966 was published. The first part lists the table of contents of all the volumes and part two is an author index of all volumes published through 1996.

Classics Index (<http://classicsindex.wikispaces.com/>)

Contains links to Online Books for the study of Greek and Roman classics, early Judaism, and Christianity.

Ancient World Open Bibliographies (<http://ancientbiblio.wordpress.com/>)

This blog is run by Phoebe Acheson of the blog Classics Librarian and Chuck Jones of the Institute for the Study of the Ancient World at New York University. This blog is for discussion and development of a project to collect bibliographies about subjects relevant to studies of the ancient world. It includes links to bibliographies on the Greco-Roman world, epigraphy, papyrology, and other topics.